

Editor's Comment:

I have thoroughly gone through the manuscript Chromosome Mediated Fluoroquinolone (qnrS) and Extended Spectrum Beta-lactamase (blaCMY) Resistant Genes in E. coli of Poultry Origin in Ido-Ekiti and made some comments /suggestions for doing the needful by the authors. Few important points are as under:

- In the background of the abstract the meaning of writing the first sentence here is not clear. Authors are advised to write this background sentence so as to correlate with the present work.
- Do not write the abbreviated form of the words like " qnrS and blaCMY" when writing for the first time. For the first time write in expanded form, it can be followed by abbreviated form.
- At the end of introduction part please add the aim of the present investigation or objective of the present investigation

Attached is the manuscript for more details.
